He was a lieutenant in a Cossack regiment, and as he bowed to Steinmetz, whom Paul introduced, he swung off his high astrakhan cap with a flourish, showing a fair boyish face.

"Yes," he continued to Paul in English. "The general sent me over with a salute of men, and pretty hungry you will find them. We have covered the whole country since the attack. A report reached the old gentleman that the whole country was about to rise against you."

"Who spread the report?" asked Steinmetz.

"I believe it originated down at the wharves. It has been traced to an old man and his daughter, a sort of peddler, I think, who took a passage down the river, but where they heard the rumor I don't know."

Paul and Kate were not exactly averse to looking at each other. They knew that Catherine had a fine, full face and sent back assistance.

"Of course," said Paul, "I am very glad to see you, but I am equally glad to inform you that you are not wanted. Steinmetz will tell you all about it, and when you are ready for dinner it will be ready for you. I will give instructions that the men be cared for."

"Thanks. The funny thing is that I am instructed, with your approval, to put the place under martial law and take charge."

"That will not be necessary, thanks," answered Paul, going out of the open door to speak to the wild looking Cossacks sent for his protection.

While the young officer was changing his uniform for the evening frock which his servant's forethought had provided, Paul and Steinmetz hurriedly arranged what story of the evening should be given to the world. Knowing the country as they did, they were enabled to tell a true tale, which was yet devoid of that small personal interest that gossips love. And all the world ever knew was that the Princess Howard Alexis was killed by the revolted peasants while attempting to escape by a side door, and that the Baron Claude de Chauville, met his death in attempting to save her from the fury of the mob.

On the recommendation of Karl Steinmetz, Paul placed the castle and village under martial law, and there and then gave the command to the young Cossack officer, pending further instructions from his general, commanding at Tver.

The officer dined with Steinmetz and, under the careful treatment of that diplomatist, inaugurated a reign of military autocracy which varied pleasantly between strict discipline and boyish neglect.

Before the master of the situation had slept off the effects of his hundred mile ride and a heavy dinner, the next morning Steinmetz and Maggie were ready to start on their journey to England.

The breakfast was served in the room abutting on the cliff in the dim light of a misty morning.

The lamps were alight on the table, and Paul was waiting when Maggie came down cloaked for her journey. Steinmetz had breakfasted.

"They said good morning and managed to talk of ordinary things until Maggie was supplied with coffee and toast and a somewhat heavy, manly helping of a breakfast dish. Then came a silence.

Paul broke it at length with an effort, standing, as it were, on the edge of the forbidden topic.

"Steinmetz will take you all the way," he said, "and then come back to me. You can safely trust yourself to his care."

"Yes," answered the girl, looking at the food set before her with a helpless stare. "It is not that. Can I safely trust Etta's memory to your judgment? You are very stern, Paul. I think you might easily misjudge her. Men do not always understand a woman's temptations."

Paul had not set down. He walked away to the window and stood there looking out into the gloomy mists.

"It is not because she was my cousin," said Maggie from the table. "It is because she was a woman leaving her memory to be judged by two men who are both—hard."

Paul neither looked around nor answered.

"When a woman has to form her own life and renders it a prominent one she usually makes a huge mistake of it," said the girl.

Baby Costs Too Much

When the price paid is the mother's health and happiness. The father doesn't realize as he romps with the child what years of wifely suffering must be set against the baby's laughter.

Chronic invalidism is a high price to pay for the painful joy of maternity, yet it is at such a cost that many a woman becomes a mother. Such a price is too much because it is more than nature asks.

By the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription maternity is made practically painless, and a quick convalescence is assured in almost every case.

$500 Reward for Women Who Cannot be Cured.

The proprietors and makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in legal money of the United States, for any case of Leucorrhea, Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

There are thousands of sick women dragging out a weary, miserable existence, who would be well and happy did they but have my experience with Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I was nearly dead with inflammation and ulceration. I endured daily untold agony, and life was a burden to me. I had used medicines internally and externally until I had made up my mind that there was no relief in sight for me. A friend of mine endorsed your "Favorite Prescription," and I determined then to give it a trial. It took patience and perseverance for I was in a bad condition, and had to use your medicine for nearly four months before I was cured, but what a change it brought, from despair to happiness, from misery to the delightful, exhilarating feeling that only health brings. I would not cling back for a thousand dollars. Your "Prescription" is a grand medicine. I saw every sick woman would only try it and be convinced."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription contains no alcohol and is entirely free from opium, cocaine and all other narcotics.

The dealer who offers a substitute for "Favorite Prescription" does so to gain the little more profit paid on the sale of less meritorious medicines. His profit is your loss; therefore, accept no substitute.

MISCHIEVOUS CANARD

Vice President Says He Is Not Opposing Mr. New's Prospects.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 15.—The following brief item of general interest to Indiana Republican leaders appeared yesterday afternoon in a paper here that is very friendly to Vice President Fairbanks: "Stories printed in some newspapers that Vice President Fairbanks is opposing the appointment of Harry S. New to be acting chairman of the Republican national committee, are untrue. He is not bothering about such matters in the least. No one's selection is opposed by him." It is generally believed that this statement was authorized by the vice president. Some newspapers have been printing stories to the effect that Mr. New wanted to get at the head of the organization in order to oppose Mr. Fairbanks for president.

A well known Second district politician who was here today said that the candidacy of John Billheimer of Washington, for the Republican nomination for auditor of state will be formally announced within a fortnight. Mr. Billheimer is now a deputy in the auditor's office and is one of the most popular officials in the state house. His name has been mentioned for auditor for sometime but it was not until recently that he began to give the matter serious consideration. So many prominent party men have urged him to become a candidate that, as already stated, he is about to formally announce that he will enter the race. Mr. Billheimer is the present Second district member of the state committee having served with much credit in that position. His friends are going to work for him with so much enthusiasm that he will get off in the race with a good start.

What may be regarded as a long step towards the adoption of voting machines in Indiana was taken today when the county council voted in favor of an ordinance for an appropriation of $100,000 to buy them for this city and county. Probably 150 will be required. Democratic City Chairman Keach appeared before the council and urged the adoption of the ordinance. The machines may be secured for the municipal campaign this year. Party leaders generally are favorable to the use of machines and several counties will probably adopt them before the state campaign next year. The successful experiments in Vigo and Vanderburg counties last year has had a good deal to do with creating a sentiment favorable to machines.

At a Prohibition mass meeting a boom for George Hitz as an independent candidate for mayor was announced by Felix T. McWhirter, Prohibitionist candidate for governor last year. Hitz, who was chairman of the meeting, said he will formally announce his candidacy within a few days. His platform will be "a clean city and a clean administration," his slogan two years ago, when he secured nearly 6,000 votes. The way things are shaping up it would not be surprising if the same candidates should be in the race as two years ago.

The state house may soon be minus one of its well known figures as Colonel "Billy" Hoffman, a well known politician who has been custodian since the early part of the Durbin administration is preparing to vacate his position, although Governor Hanly has not said he will not reappoint him. It is understood, however, that O. A. Baker, of Shoals, an original Hanly man will be appointed. State officials and deputies, however, would be pleased to see Colonel Hoffman reappointed as he has been an obliging custodian.

Governor Hanly remarked today that this is "plum week" in his office. The tree will probably be shaken of all the choicest fruit. No announcements were made as to who is slated for the good places, but the governor said that he will make the names of the members of the railroad commission public Thursday.

A Bloody Pitched Battle.
Lake Village, Ark., March 15.—A pitched battle was fought between a sheriff's posse of white men and three negroes suspected of murder, on the shore of the lake near here yesterday afternoon. Two of the blacks being killed outright and C. D. Owens, manager of the Red Leaf plantation, wounded in the arm. Recently two brothers named Watson were murdered near Dumas, Ark., and the three negroes were said to have participated in the crime.

WAR CHEST EMPTY

France Refuses to Get in Any Deeper With Russia.

London, March 15.—The revolt of the French bankers is considered by the London press as the most hopeful and important news of the day, promising an early conclusion of peace between Russia and Japan. Apparently the proposed loan has not been absolutely refused, but only "postponed." This, however, is regarded here as being tantamount to a refusal, and is expected to speak louder to the Russian war party than even Kuropatkin's reverse at Mukden. It is the general belief that by the death of M. Germain, the late governor of the Credit Lyonnais, Russia lost her strongest financial friend in France, and that had he been alive no difficulty would have been experienced. With the American and English markets closed to her it is thought that Russia can only turn to Germany, who is not likely to be much more responsive than France, and the only alternative would seem to be to make peace. Reports are current here that Japan will now demand an indemnity of between $500,000,000 and $750,000,000.

SITUATION AT TIE PASS

Order Is Being Restored in Panic-Stricken Army.

Tie Pass, March 15.—As after the battle of Liaoyang the advance of the Japanese army against the new positions of the Russians at Tie pass is very slow. The leading columns are eight or ten miles southward and in touch with the Russian van posts, but the operations at present are not serious. Field Marshal Oyama shows slight intentions of pressing his advantage in an immediate assault on Tie pass. It is possible, however, that a wide turning movement of which reports are current, is in progress. In such operations the Japanese have the immense advantage of several bases and lines of supply to which is now added the Sinimint road, while the Russian army necessarily is dependent on one base and one line of communication and therefore may easily be outflanked.

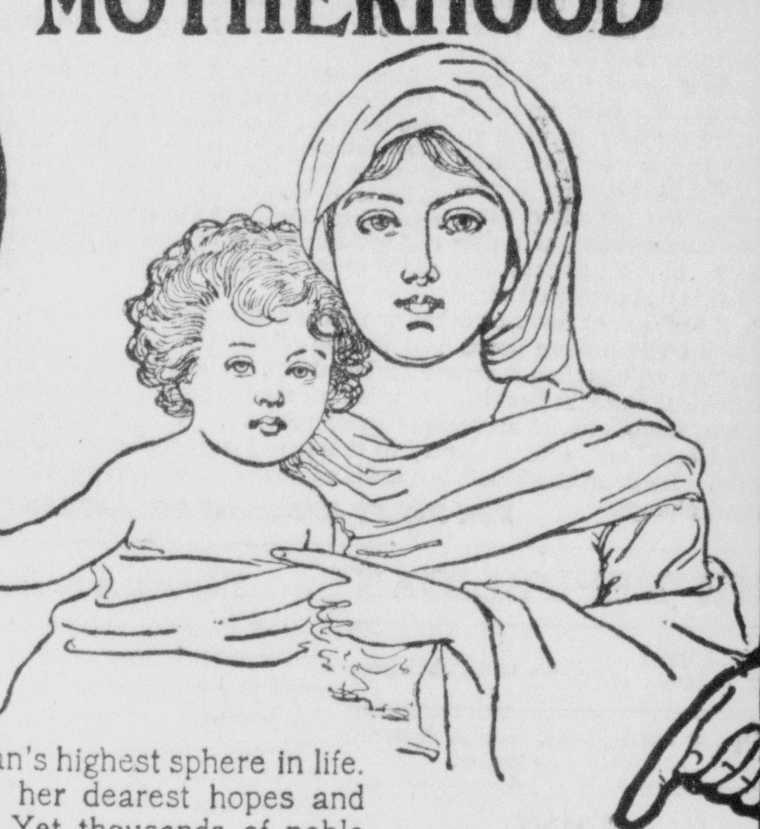

In the grand army order is being brought out of chaos with remarkable celerity. The plain in front of Tie pass, which on March 11 seethed like a nest of ants with the dense and confused mass of transport artillery and troops, corps, divisions and regiments being scattered and parties inextricably mingled, has been cleared and regiments reorganized, stragglers sent to their respective commands, organizations their assigned positions and today the same soldiers who on March 10 became a terror stricken, surging, disorganized mass of gray at a few shots from a small detachment of Japanese or who even fled in panic, firing indiscriminately in all directions are now gathered singing about the

MOTHERHOOD

How To Gain The Happiness Of Children

Motherhood is woman's highest sphere in life. It is the fruition of her dearest hopes and most holy desires. Yet thousands of noble women, through the derangement of the female generative organs brought on by female weakness and disease, are unable to produce children!

Ninety-nine times out of every one hundred Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will so restore and strengthen the female organism as to make child bearing possible, easy, and safe.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

with its record of thousands of cures, is the remedy for women. Thousands of women are happy mothers of beautiful children to-day because in time of need they took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. No matter what your female weakness or disease, it will afford you speedy relief and cure. Every woman who desires to become a mother should read these letters:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—I had been married seven years and had no children, owing to a female weakness and womb trouble, which caused me severe suffering each month. A lady advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I did so, and now I have no more pains and am perfectly well, besides having a fine baby boy. MRS. ROSA F. KAREL, Ravenna, Neb.

Another happy and grateful mother writes to Mrs. Pinkham as follows:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—I was very anxious for a child, but could not carry one to maturity. My husband advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so, and soon began to feel better in every way. I continued its use and was enabled to carry my next child to maturity. I now have a nice baby girl, and I feel like a new woman. MRS. FRANK BEYER, 22 S. Second St., Meriden, Conn.

Actual sterility in woman is very rare. If any woman thinks she is sterile, let her write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., whose advice is given free to all would-be and expectant mothers. Her letter will give you valuable information.

Pupils March Out.

Warsaw, March 15.—The authorities were unsuccessful in an attempt to reopen the commercial and technical schools yesterday. The pupils assembled in the classrooms at the regular hour where they remained for a few minutes and then simultaneously marched out. The educational situation is causing much concern.

ROASTED TO DEATH

Horrible Holocaust in a New York Tenement House.

New York, March 15.—Nineteen persons were burned to death in a fire which destroyed the five story tenement house at 105 Allen street. More than forty were injured and only a few of the sleeping inmates escaped unhurt. Several of those who perished were roasted to death in plain view of thousands in the streets.

Coroner Goldenkranz declared after an investigation that he had reason to believe the blaze was the work of an incendiary.

He issued subpoenas for the fire marshal, tenement house and building inspectors and health and police officials to appear before him at the inquest.

The fire started in the basement and spread with frightful rapidity to the roof. The victims were caught in traps of flames, the halls and exits being rendered impassable in a few minutes after the blaze started.

The building was one of the usual crowded tenements and the disaster was the worst in the history of the east side. The district attorney's office has begun an investigation to place the blame for the great loss of life.

Goshen, Ind., March 15.—Nickel slot machines, valued at $1,500, were destroyed here by detectives at the county jail, under the provisions of the Indiana law. The detectives used sledge hammers. The machines were captured at Nappanee by Goshen officers, who acted on complaint of the Civic Federation. Not a whole casting was left. Even the cases were splintered.

Big Deal in Coal Lands.

Birmingham, Ala., March 15.—A deal was closed here whereby ex-Governor E. E. Jackson, of Maryland, disposes of 20,000 acres of coal lands on the Ensley Southern railroad to the Pratt Coal company of this city for $500,000.

The extreme penalty is imprisonment for one year.

THE BEST TONIC

When the system gets debilitated and in a run-down condition it needs a tonic and there has never been one discovered that is the equal of S. S. S. It is especially adapted for a systemic remedy, because it contains no strong minerals to damage the stomach and digestion, and affect the liver and bowels. It is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks selected for their purifying and healing qualities, and possesses just the properties that are needed to restore to the body strong robust health. When the blood becomes impure and clogged with waste matters and poisons the body does not receive sufficient nourishment and suffers from debility, weakness, sleeplessness, nervousness, loss of appetite, bad digestion, and many other disordered symptoms of a disordered blood circulation. S. S. S. is a blood purifier and tonic and acts promptly in this run-down depleted condition of the system. Book on the blood and medical advice furnished by our physicians, without charge.

The Rushville Daily Republican is a year old and it has all the indications of prosperity. It is a bright newsy paper and is a credit to Rushville. Mr. J. Feudner is the proprietor.

The Fort Wayne News announces that Judge Heaton of that city may become a candidate for Supreme Judge before the next Republican state convention. Judge Heaton is spoken of as a strong lawyer and one with a distinguished career as a jurist.

Judge Samuel R. Artman of Lebanon is a probable candidate for appellate judge. Judge Artman was Speaker of the House of Representatives in 1901 and has a wide acquaintance over the state. He stands high in the legal profession and has made a good record on the circuit bench.

The work of township assessors now in progress is more exacting if done well than most people think. To list all property for taxation so that every man pays proportionately on what he possesses is a difficult task. The men who do this must be good judges of property and they must go about their work without personal prejudices. The taxpayers themselves should be honest in giving in their property, and if they are, the work of the assessor will be very much simplified.

Smallpox Near Grammar.

A telephone message Tuesday said that Young Carson, who was operator at Bee Hunter, on the Southern Indiana railroad, in Green county, who came home with the smallpox, three weeks ago has about recovered.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lafayette Carson, and his two sisters, aged about eleven and fifteen years, are all down with the scourge. None of them though are dangerous and all are being nursed and cared for by the young man who has just recovered.

The Carson family resides in the old homestead on Rockcreek, just over the line in Jennings county.—Columbus Times.

Agency Transferred.

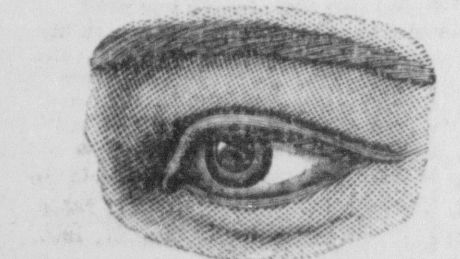

Representatives of the insurance companies for which J. W. DIED.

COLE.—Cyrill B. Cole died about 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, March 14th, at Indianapolis, where he had been for several weeks for treatment. Mrs. Cole was with him at the time of his death, having been at his bedside almost constantly the past week. Mr. Cole was one of the most prominent and most highly esteemed residents of this city and he had a host of admiring friends. He was one of our best and most useful citizens and his death brings sorrow to the entire community.

Mr. Cole was born July 17th, 1833 in Caledonia county, Vermont. At the age of nineteen he went to northern New Hampshire, and there began his railroad career. He was employed to drive ox teams during the construction of the Grand Trunk railroad from Portland to Montreal. When that work was done he took employment with the Northern New Hampshire railroad in the repair service. In 1858 he came to Seymour and began work on the O. & M. railroad as bridge carpenter. In a comparatively short time he became road master and later was appointed a conductor of freight and passenger trains. After ten years of service with this road he went with the Union Pacific as a passenger conductor. Subsequently he was employed by the Vandavia one year. Then he took employment with the Missouri Pacific as freight conductor and remained with that road about a year and a half. He resigned that position in 1872 and returned to Seymour, having been appointed train master of the O. & M. road. Soon after he was promoted to division superintendent, his jurisdiction being between Cincinnati and Vincennes. He remained with this road until the O. & M. was absorbed by the B. & O. S-W. As a railroad man he achieved distinction and was regarded as one of the most efficient railroad men in the middle west. When he retired from railroad work he engaged in business in the state of Washington for a few years. He then returned to Seymour and engaged in the hardware and implement business, being a member of the firm of C. B. Cole & Co. When his health began to fail a few years ago, he retired from active business life. Mr. Cole was a member of the Presbyterian church and for many years was an elder in the Seymour church. He was a prominent Mason, being a member of the Columbus Commandery of Knights Templar and a Scottish Rite and had received the 33rd and last degree in Masonry. Of his immediate family he leaves a wife and one grand-daughter, Mrs. John Haydon, of Seattle.

PROFESSOR DAVID STARR JORDAN.

opinion that Mrs. Stanford's death was not due to strychnine poisoning. He says that when he became familiar with her symptoms he reached that conclusion. He is a doctor of medicine and says that since he has learned that the amount of strychnine taken by Mrs. Stanford was not beyond a medical dose, he is more sure than ever that she was not poisoned. Dr. Jordan has been assisting the detectives to the extent of suggesting questions as a physician during their inquiry regarding her symptoms and results of the autopsy.

The territorial senate today adjourned and the senators attended the funeral of Mrs. Stanford in a body.

RED MEN.

A New Lodge of Fifty-two, Charter Members Instituted Here.

A Red Men's Lodge with fifty-two charter members was organized here Tuesday night. The work was done in the Woodmen hall, which will be the meeting place for the Red Men of this city in the future. There were eighty-three braves over from North Vernon and about forty were here from Spottsburg. They took part in the work and of course got more real enjoyment out of it than the fifty-two, who for the first time got an insight into the mysteries of this secret order. But they will have their enjoyment and satisfaction in the future as they increase their tribe by initiations. All who took the work seem well pleased and are today full pledged and enthusiastic Red Men.

The visitors were delighted with their entertainment while here and went away fully satisfied. J. B. Kieth and Dr. B. S. Shinness, who have been Red Men for some years, did the preliminary work in the organization of this new lodge and did it well. The new lodge starts off with an unusually large membership and with bright prospects for the future.

Will Appeal.

The motion for a new trial of the Hirschburg-Jonas case was argued before Judge Bear at Columbus Tuesday afternoon. The defendant's motion for a new trial was over-ruled by the court, as was the plaintiff's motion relative to the Medora State Bank. The court rendered judgment quieting the title as to the plaintiff's interest in the Jonas estate as previously published. The defendant, Miss Nellie Jonas, gave notice through her attorneys that she would appeal to the Supreme Court. T. M. Honan, Shea & Wood, and W. T. Branaman of Seymour, and Merrill Moores of Indianapolis, were the attorneys present and interested in the case when the court made his ruling.
